

GSorting API Documentation

Gsorting provides a service for searching garbage types, which can be searched using images or text. And it supports two languages, Chinese and English. When users open the APP in different system languages, the APP will automatically switch to the corresponding language. The APIs used in this project are as follows:

Baidu Translation API:

Used to translate Chinese and English

postmanAPI:

Used to test the PyTorch model of the back end of the project